1. Introduction

Activities related to the expiry day of options on shares are disciplined by Article B.6.1.2 of the Instructions and by Annexes B.611, letter B) and B.612, while information regarding clearing reports provided by Euronext Clearing on this day (Reports MX01 and MX04) are indicated in the Technical Manual.

Given the importance of these activities, it is necessary to provide with this document, a handbook of all the tasks that will be undertaken. This covers scenarios under ordinary operations and in case of emergencies, where Euronext Clearing experiences a malfunction of its Technological Infrastructure (BCS). Please use in case of necessity, the contact details provided in this document.

2. Ordinary Operation

At the end of the last trading day of options on shares (the day before the expiry day), Euronext Clearing produces and makes available to Members, through the Technological Infrastructure (BCS and ICWS), the Report MX01 containing the proposals for the automatic exercise of positions considered "In-the-Money" and for the non-exercise of positions considered "Out-of-the-Money" and "At-the-Money".

The exercise and non-exercise proposals are performed by Euronext Clearing for each Member on the basis of the difference between the strike prices for the options series (for which long positions are open) and the reference prices of the respective underlying.

In the case where a Member intends to accept all exercised and non-exercised proposals indicated by Euronext Clearing, it does not need to perform any operations on the expiry day.

On the contrary, if a Member intends to make choices different from those proposed by Euronext Clearing, detailed in the Report MX01, it must express this through the BCS, no later than 08:15 CET of the expiry day, with requests for "Exercise by exception"¹ (so-called Ex by Ex) following the instructions indicated below:

- in order not to exercise all - or part of - the option positions indicated in column "Automatic Exercise" of Report MX01, the Member will indicate with the number zero (for a total abandonment) or the desired number of positions that are to be exercised.
- In order to exercise option positions indicated in column "Not-Auto Exercise" of Report MX01 (in absence of a different instruction by the Member these would be automatically abandoned), the Member must indicate the number of those they wish to exercise.

Note that the last exercise by exception request sent supersedes any request previously sent for the same option series and account.

The technical information on using the "Exercise by exception" can be found in the BCS Manual. Technical assistance for the BCS is also available by phone on +39 02 45411399 and 0080026772000 and by e-mail Client-Support@euronext.com.

After the period allowed for submission of requests for "Exercise by exception" has elapsed, namely after 08:15 CET, Euronext Clearing shall exercise the corresponding option rights of the Members with long positions and randomly assign these to the Members with short positions, providing the interested Members with the information about the exercises and assignments on the BCS.

After the assignment phase, Euronext Clearing produces and makes available to Members through the Technological Infrastructure (BCS and ICWS), the Report MX04 containing the assigned option positions, with evidence (indicated by an asterisk in the last column) of the series that have been subject to "Exercise by exception".
