

Special provisions applicable in respect of order entry and on behalf of trading members

Euronext Paris operates an exchange desk ("ED") available to trading members under the following conditions and for the financial instruments listed below. ED shall seek at all times to provide the services in an orderly and neutral fashion.

Subject to the prior execution of prescribed documentation, a trading member may register orders and off-order book trades by contacting ED by telephone or other documentable means authorised by Euronext Paris. ED will register in the Euronext trading platform the order or the off-order book trade where appropriate on behalf of the trading member without undue delay. ED performs the tasks to the extent the market situation and the available personnel resources at ED allow.

For the avoidance of doubt, trading members with electronic access to the Euronext trading platform may also call ED subject to the aforementioned conditions.

ED is at least open on the following hours from 08:30 – 16:30 CET during Trading Days.

All the information needed for Euronext Paris to discharge its reporting obligations as a market operator must be specified by the client for each order, including data required pursuant to EU delegated regulation 2017/580, and each off-order book trade where appropriate. Any execution and validity conditions specified must correspond to the standard order or trade types and conditions accepted by the Euronext trading platform. Requests for discretionary treatment of orders, including the use of market orders, will not be accepted. All orders must be expressed with a specific volume and limit price.

For the avoidance of doubt, the submission of orders via the ED does not alter the trading member's regulatory duties, towards the client or competent authorities, resulting from his position of order executing investment service provider.

With respect to orders placed with ED, the following additional actions may apply, depending on individual preferences expressed by the relevant trading members and always to the extent the market situation and the available personnel resources at ED allow: 1) when handling orders, ED shall call the trading members with the best price registered in the relevant contract maturity on the opposite side so that this trading members to consider the incoming order; and 2) in the event that the order entered is not traded, ED may inform possible counterparts of the order on an anonymous basis.

Where an error has been made concerning an off-order book trade, either by the executing member(s) or by ED, it is the responsibility of the member(s) to request a trade cancellation complying with Euronext Notice 4-02 - Order withdrawal and trade cancellation.
